product information

Your customers' favorite beverage brands are really brought to attention with the large advertising space on the entire body of the promotion bar.

The ideal surface for your beverage bar is the new NOVIS with its stylish metallic design. This not only impresses with its look, but especially with its easy-care quality. For those who like it classical, the beverage bar is of course available in stainless steel as well. As an option, any RAL-color can be selected to match your beverage's logo. The inner cabinet is NOVIS or stainless steel, depending on the chosen model.

Beverage bars are the perfect accessory for outdoor and event catering. They allow immediate tapping and simultaneous cooling of a tapped beer keg due to the integrated room and flow-through cooling. Professional refrigeration experts additionally offer the Promotion Bar Pro with controlled compartment cooling. Depending on the model, a top or side evaporator with pump-down control ensures constant room cooling in the temperature range + 6° / 8° C.

Accessories for dispensing: dispensing column with compensator tap, drip tray with sieve plate, dispensing basin with cold water tap. The dispensing system is complete including bottle pressure gauge with pre-pressure indicator, beverage supply pipes and connections, CO2 wrench and operating manual.

An extra useful detail is the water drain, which is equipped with standard Gardena connector, so it is very easy to get connected.

Our beverage bars are also available in the Pro version on request. Here illustrated for two barrels with stainless steel dispensing column.

product information

Modern hospitality is becoming more and more mobile. We are here to help you in making your bar as mobile as your guests.

Besides the functionality, the visual design options are an essential element. High-quality wooden panelling with counter boards for serving in the high-class gastronomy or panelling which displays the advertising line of your customers and provides an ideal advertising space in a inspiring atmosphere.

Almost every counter can be equipped with wheels on request and thus become a mobile counter. The possibilities are as varied as the areas of use in which the drinks will be served. Event catering and caterers, hall catering, club-houses, beer gardens, multi-purpose halls, seasonal businesses, etc. Offer the mobile counter everywhere where hospitality follows the guest.

With well-proven technical solutions, the counter chassis, rollers, panelling and attachments are adapted to the requirements on site. For example, heavy-duty rollers are used on uneven terrain, common Gardena connections are used for the fastest possible water supply, or all connections disappear completely inside the counter in order to avoid any damage caused by frequent transport.
